

THE FUTURE OF THE EU SOCIAL POLICY AFTER THE EUROPEAN ELECTIONS

Symposium

Brussels | 6 June 2019

Organised by the CRIDES (Centre de recherche interdisciplinaire Droit Entreprise et Société) and the Institute for European Studies, UCLouvain, in collaboration with the Institute for European Studies, Université Saint-Louis-Bruxelles

PROGRAMME

Scientific committee: Professors Filip Dorsemont and Edoardo Traversa (UCLouvain)

11.45-12.15 Welcome coffee, sandwich lunch and inscription
[outside the auditorium]

12.15-12.25 Introduction
Edoardo Traversa, Institute for European Studies (UCLouvain)

12.25-12.40 In search of Social Europe
Philippe Pochet (UCLouvain, ETUI)
Author of the book A la recherche de l'Europe sociale, Puf: 2019

12.40-12.55 The Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union, what has it delivered in advancing Social Europe ?
Filip Dorsemont (UCLouvain, VUB)
Co-editor of the book The Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union and the Employment Relation, Hart: 2019

12.55-13.05 EU labour law perspectives on the Gig Economy
Alberto Pizzoferrato (University of Bologna)
Co-editor of the book Diritto del Lavoro dell'Unione Europea, Giappichelli: 2018

13.05-13.20 Social Europe in times of Brexit
Simon Deakin (University of Cambridge)

13.20-13.50 Panel with Social Partners
Rebekah Smith, Deputy Director of the Social Affairs Department, BusinessEurope and Isabelle Schömann, Candidate for the Confederal secretariat of ETUC

13.50-14.00 Concluding remarks
Enrico Traversa, University of Bologna,
Former Director Legal Service European Commission

Free entrance | Online registration before May 30 on uclouvain.be/crides
Place | European Economic and Social Committee (EESC)
Trèves Building, 7th floor, 74 rue de Trèves, 1040 Brussels
Contact | maria-cristina.degoli@uclouvain.be

